When the team is not playing, resting, or relaxing at the hotel, they will need a set of clothing for each day of the trip: shorts, jeans, shirts, undergarments, sleepwear, a light jacket, shoes/sandals/boots, whatever athletes plan to wear each day. Check the weather for a few days in Tampa. Please do NOT bring a million pairs of shoes or curling irons.

Additional Necessary Items and Suggestions:

- (1) MONEY for food and extra spending, souvenir, shopping, sightseeing, movies, arcade, etc.

If your parents are not present on the returning flight, each athlete must plan, prior to leaving Colorado, for a responsible adult to pick athlete(s) up from the airport when returning to Denver. If the adult is not the athlete's parent, a signed note from a parent must be given to the club director to verify permission for athlete's transportation from the airport. If the club director or coach is not familiar with the individual who will be picking up an athlete, a photo ID may be required for safety purposes. Those individuals who will be picking up athletes should be present prior to athlete's arrival time. Athletes, without transportation present, will not be left at the airport alone.
